

Sylvius Leopold Weiss

(1687 - 1750)

London Suite No.9

Originally for lute in D minor (Sonata SC13)

Arranged for Guitar
by Andrew Forrest

This suite is taken from the London manuscript of Weiss' works. Bourrée II has been added as an 'extra'; though clearly similar to Bourrée I, it is extended and more developed. It is found within the Moscow Manuscripts as an individual piece, SW13.4, in D minor. In the Prelude, the passage between asterisks () is missing in the original MS. These notes have been added to link to the ending.*

The baroque lute for which Weiss wrote had 13 courses including a complete diatonic scale in the bass. I have endeavoured to keep the performance of this piece simple though having to stop the strings for the bass part inevitably makes the piece less easy to perform and it has not been possible to include all the lower range of notes at their original pitch.

In the event of a public performance, please include the arranger's name on the programme

Detailed description of the musical score: The score is for a piece in 3/4 time, D major. It is divided into six systems of music. The first system (measures 1-2) is labeled with Roman numerals IV, II, and CII. The second system (measures 3-5) is labeled CII. The third system (measures 6-9) is labeled CVII. The fourth system (measures 10-13) is unlabeled. The fifth system (measures 14-17) is labeled CIII. The sixth system (measures 18-21) is labeled V and VII. The music features a variety of rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. Fingering is indicated by numbers 1-4 and 0. Articulation includes slurs and accents. The bass line is indicated by a single note on a ledger line below the staff.
